REL and CSCS organize a Public Symposium on The Meaning of Social Responsibility in a Free Society

The Department of Religion and Philosophy, the Centre for Sino-Christian Studies, the UNESCO Chair in Bioethics and Human Rights, Regina Apostolorum University and the European University of Rome jointly organized the Public Symposium on The Meaning of Social Responsibility in a Free Society. Sponsored by Wofoo Social Enterprises, the event invited five religious leaders from Catholicism, Buddhism, Protestantism, Islam and Daoism to present insightful views on social responsibility from the angle of their own religions, and attracted nearly 350 HKBU students and staff, as well as secondary school students and the community, to attend.

The speakers were prominent religious leaders in Hong Kong, including Most Rev. Joseph Ha Chi-shing, Auxiliary Bishop of Hong Kong of The Catholic Diocese of Hong Kong; Ven. Sik Hin-hung, Director of Centre of Buddhist Studies of The University of Hong Kong; Rev. Daniel Ng Chung-man, Senior Pastor of E.F.C.C.-Kong Fok Church; Imam Uthman Yang, Imam of Masjid Ammar and Osman Ramju Sadick Islamic Centre of the Islamic Union of Hong Kong; and Master Leung Tak-wah, Chairman of The Hong Kong Taoist Association and Vice-Chairman of Fung Ying Seen Koon. Dr. Eddie Ho, Special Advisor of the Hong Kong Institute of Education, chaired a discussion session with the five speakers to facilitate vivid cross-religious dialogue and mutual understanding.
